

DEANONIAN

Presented By
The Seniors of Gouverneur High School
Gouverneur, New York

We Honor Earl W. Riley

Students and faculty alike have always been delighted by the friendly smile and warm personality of Mr. Riley. The building just would not be the same without his Irish sense of humor, those three-fifteen tea parties in his office, his assembly lectures and that cheerful Hello.

Mr. Riley has a way with students that no other faculty member can surpass. He can be, and often has been, firm, but when advice is needed there is no better person to go to.

He has always had a sincere interest in the school and every student in it. In return he has won the respect and liking of all those with whom he has come in contact.

We are deeply sorry that Mr. Riley has given up his position as principal of Dean High, but we are glad that he is maintaining his interest in the activities of the school by accepting a post as assistant to the principal and to the guidance director.

This is to be the final year for our high school as we know it. Because of increased enrollment and overcrowding, our familiar building must be entirely altered.

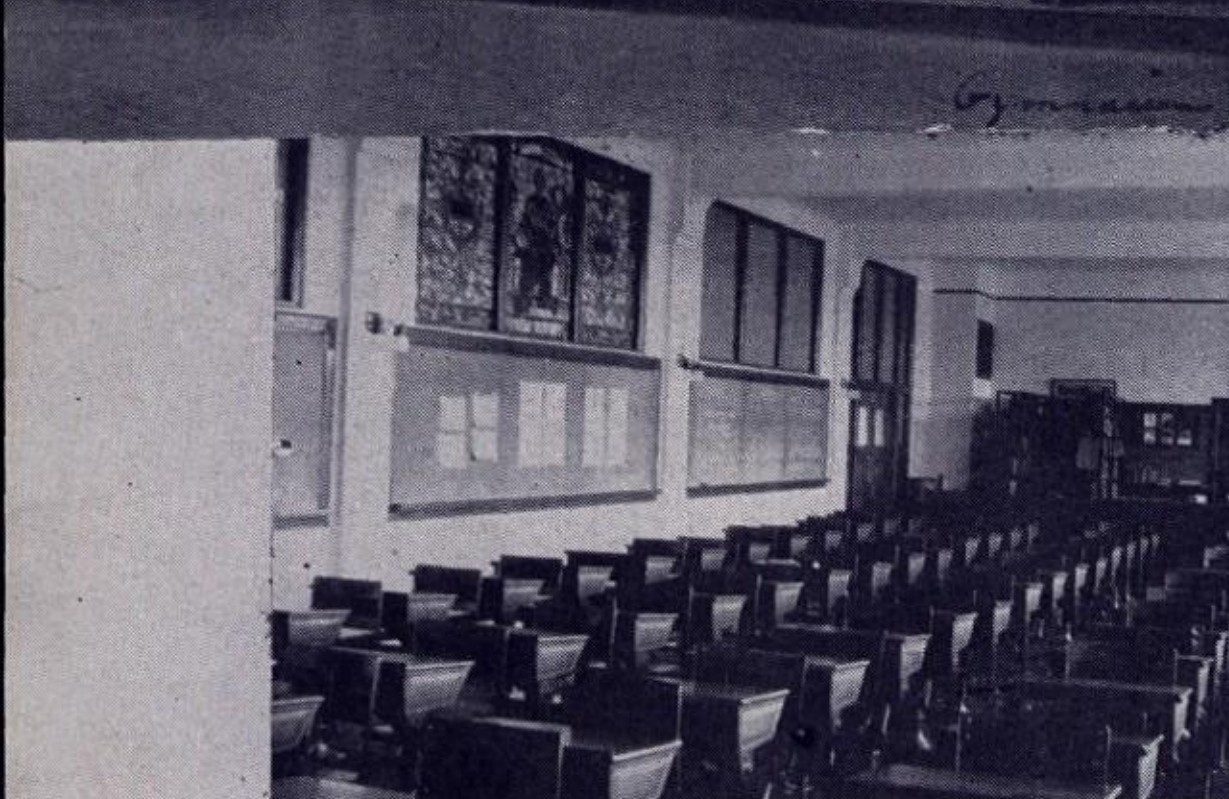

The history of Dean High School dates to 1917 when the original building was built through the generous contribution of the Misses Jennie and Cora Dean. In the fall of 1937 the annex containing gymnasium, auditorium, Oral English room, cafeteria and classrooms was opened and named in honor of Judge James C. Dolan who became a member of the Board of Education in 1905 and was its president from 1910 until 1937. The third building will be the modern structure shown in the drawing on the title page.

As we, the Seniors, walk through the halls the last days before graduation memories of our school life come back to us. To keep these memories we have pictured as many of the activities that take place in the building as we could.

In the succeeding pages we would like to take you through an unforgettable day — from morning to night — in our dear old G.H.S.

Study-Library

In the original Dean High the auditorium was on the second floor where the library, hall and chemistry lab are now.

Where the present shops are, was once the gymnasium with bleachers on each side of the steps from the hall.

The picture of the main hall shows the office door where it still is and next to it the stairway to the front doors. The stained glass window is on the right between the two statues.

The large study hall with library in the rear has now been divided into two seventh grade rooms.

SENIORS—1955

A "Hawaiian Holiday" wasn't enough, so Gerry, Rich and Eleanor tried to get out of this world as angels in our Senior Play.

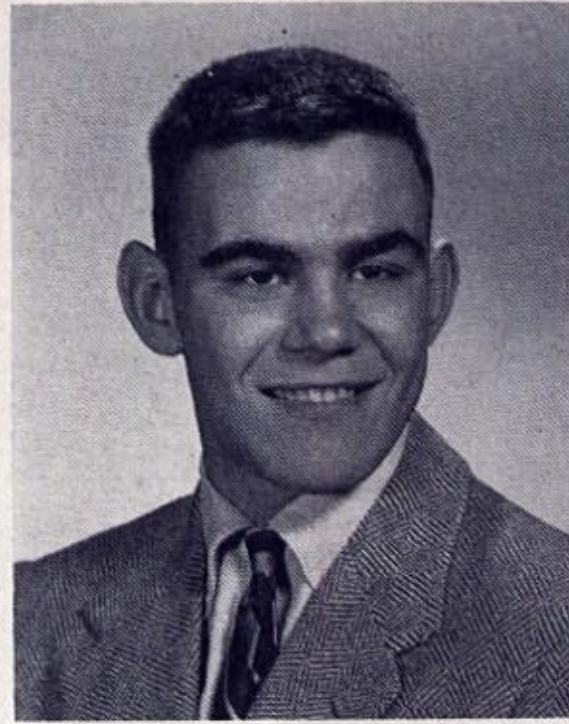

Sherwood, Julie and Roberta were more "Down to Earth" in planning vocations as were these seniors caught in a rare studious mood.

MONTE WAYNE HOLLAND

It's a takedown! little professor: where, what, when, how?

ZERO HOUR APPROACHES ANY MORNING AT G. H. S.

8:15—After the faculty limousines have rambled into the parking lot, the teachers begin preparing defense tactics for the Battle of the Brains.

8:25—Half the army of eager-beaver students establish a beachhead and plan their invasion.

8:28—Mr. Sterling raises the flag to make the day official as stragglers from the main body near their objective.

8:29—Flank attack arrives by motor transport to make a sneak approach through the back door.

8:30—Zero hour arrives—a bell rings—the invasion begins—all entrances are immediately seized—all exits are cut off.

At headquarters Mr. Mason has started his day by checking orders with Mrs. Connolly. In his counting-room Mr. Wood and his staff are ready to add up the costs of the day and to look for strayed or lost buses. Cheerfully Miss Casten begins to compile the list of deserters. When students enter the office of Mr. Weegar, acting Cnmmander-in-Chief, they meet their defeat—they are forced to put down arms and take up school work. The normal routine is established as students take their excuses to Mrs. Klink for checking. (You had appendicitis? Yesterday?)

Why is Miss Weller's line always so long? Don't the Junior High students like school? Miss Weller is trying hard not to show that pleasant smile of hers.

Some of the faculty are ready to meet the invasion. Does Mr. Flanagan sleep in his boat?

Mrs. Walrath and Mr. Hart look happy behind their desks so early in the morning.

Could Miss Eckmann possibly be a little late?

Mr. Smith is ready and waiting—for what?

HOMEROOMS

The homerooms are the heart of the school organization. To them we report first thing in the morning and from them we are reported if we are missing from our proper places. Through the homerooms nominations are made for most school offices and money is earned for the classes by means of the annual magazine drive. A homeroom can be anything that is needed — a forum for discussion, a study hall, a social center, a political group.

It is there that the Iowa tests are administered to us each year so that we may know how effective our education has been and it is there that we are given those big white cards with the A's, B's and - - - on them.

This year every available space has a homeroom in it. The former Ag room is one and the Chemistry lab has been divided into two. We have indeed outgrown our school building.

Roll call is over — classes begin. The teachers open the doors to the mechanics of shop, the magic of typing, the problems of math and the mysteries of science.

Prof. Robinson and his mad mechanics inspect machinery.

Wally waits patiently while his "typewriters" pick, peek and poke.

Mr. Cromie teaches the all-time favorite at G.H.S. — for geniuses only.

From Cliff's expression we suspect a blow-up but Mr. Hackett and Mr. Vrooman try to save the lab.

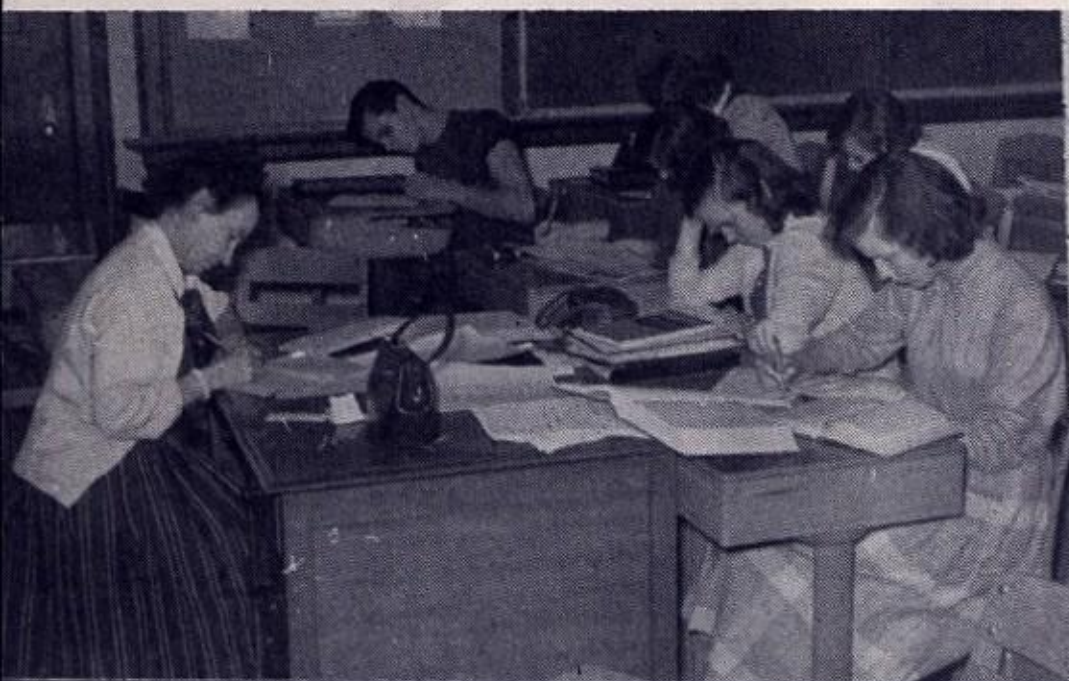

Yippee! A movie — no recitation today! It won't be Mickey Mouse though.

Our Ag boys ought to be in shape for track with their daily sprint to Houston Hall. How do you like Mr. Wicks' sesquicentennial mustache? Not as spectacular as Mr. Cromie's beard.

How we love to crowd into the library! Anybody would think we could read.

Miss Vail rarely gets a moment as peaceful as this. Is she making out those overdue lists? Mrs. Cromie is at the desk.

"But Mr. Klink, I can't find the motor."

Petite Mademoselle Passino — she teaches Caesar, too.
 Want to read efficiently? See Miss Stiles.
 The students finish using up the art supplies while Miss Todd orders more over the telephone.
 Calm, cool, collected Mrs. Lee checks reading tests.
 A study hall in our dining room? Horrors!

During fourth and fifth periods everyone relaxes from classes. Clubs meet, rehearsals are held and we get around the building a little.

Chess players having a little trouble?

Newspaper club members listen to journalism lecture.

French club treats itself to some food while a Library club member wonders how all those books pile up.

Proector club operators contemplate the machinery. Anybody got any scotch tape?

Mrs. Hunkins' relaxation is marking papers but the boys would rather play ping-pong.

Can Mrs. Canale see through your head with that machine?

What if she did play a wrong note? Quit laughing, Mr. Morse!

Time will pass—will you, is Mr. Carpenter's favorite saying—and we came up here for guidance!

"Open wide," says Miss Clough. At least she hasn't any drill!

Lunch time finds Miss Weller patrolling the lunch line of hungry bears.
 Even though the cafeteria staff is serving fish and chips it looks like ice cream takes the cake.
 You might know Ellie wouldn't let us get away without paying up.
 Looks good, doesn't it girls?
 Miss Stafford relaxes in a quiet corner after the rush is over.

Believe it or not, teachers are human! They eat too! They say there's safety in numbers. How about it? Must be Miss Hunter had hall duty today or else she wasn't hungry. Oh! that determined look — you can tell Mrs. Farley is at it again! Squeak! Boom! Bah! Baroom! Squawk! — it's only the orchestra practising. Not much elbow room for all those fiddles. Nothing like homeroom period for relaxation (?) after lunch. Mr. Canale keeps on his diet so that he can fit into his cubbyhole office.

There were three changes in January. Mr. Graham (center, right) replaced Mrs. Martin in English; Mr. Dolan (lower left) replaced Miss Allen and Mrs. Beatty (lower right) came from the grammar school into Mr. Cromie's place in 8th grade mathematics. Miss House (lower right) also teaches a 7th grade.

Mr. Weegar looks more natural here than he did behind the desk in the office.

All work and no play is not the motto of the Dean Hi-Lites Staff! But somehow the newspaper was always out on time. Mr. Walrath is a big help!

The Echo, a literary magazine published its first number this spring, advised by Miss Eckmann and Mr. Smith.

The Sextette and Quartette have to get their practicing in whenever they can during the day.

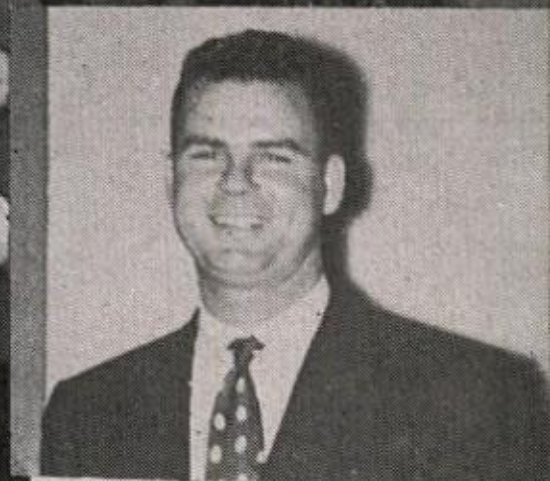

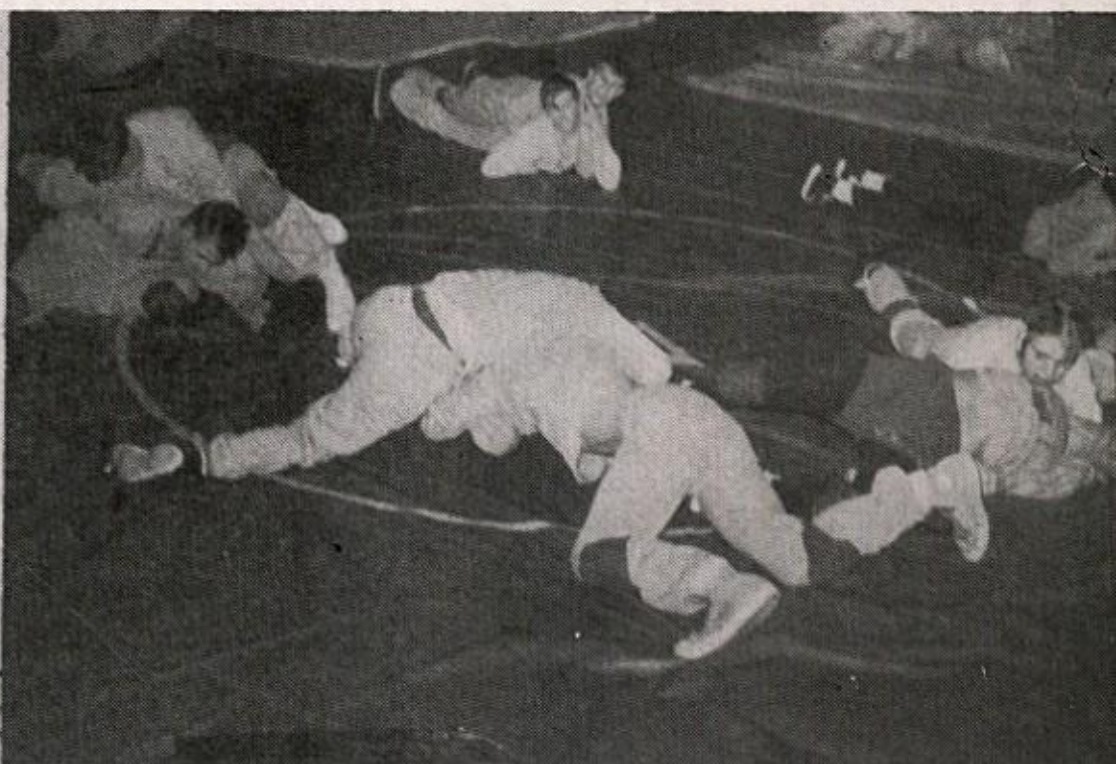

3:15—Retreat sounds. All objectives have been gained, exits are opened as school is dismissed. Orderly (?) lines of clock-watching soldiers crowd the corridors and doorways in eagerness to withdraw.

By foot and by bus the students beat a quick retreat, a few taking time to lift their hands in a farewell salute as Miss Nulty looks happily on.

Mrs. Latham, Mrs. Mosher and Mrs. Coates respond gallantly—no sighs—all smiles.

Another day is done.

After school the gym turns into a basketball court and the Oral English Room into the wrestling arena.

"Peek-a-Boo!"

Coach LaFalce shows his pride and joy but Mr. Maier is not to be outdone—how about that jeep? We bet Mr. Martin's smile convinced the refs that Gouverneur's Little Kittens were tops in the J. V. Basketball league.

Having to practice in the end of the corridor did not keep the cheerleaders from swinging.

The Gouverneur Junior Varsity had the finest record for both defensive and offensive playing that has ever been held in Gouverneur High. The outlook for a fine varsity next year is good.

The Varsity had a good year considering the number of last year's players lost. The season of '55 was one of the best football seasons in many years.

The cheerleading squads under the leadership of Miss Chittenden and Miss Costello helped to promote the spirit of
G. H. S.

A great deal of credit should be given to the Jayvee cheerleaders for the part they played in bringing the first Jay-vee championship to Gouverneur High.

The Varsity cheerleaders exhibited a
'never say die' spirit which encouraged the team to another successful season on the court and field.

Although only in their first year at G. H. S.
Miss Chittenden and Miss Costello have made many friends with their warm smiles.

Gouverneur wrestlers defeated Greene, a Southern League team, 40-0. During regular season W. Bush, G. Lamica, M. Andrews were undefeated. Andrews, Lamica, Holland, Bush, Farren and Davis won sectional titles. Lamica, Andrews and Davis won intersectional shields at Watertown. The Gouverneur team won the Northern League trophy and the Section 10 Trophy. The J. V. squad has some fine prospects on it.

Some people think that school life ends at 3:15. How wrong they are, for seldom a night passes that the building is not lighted like this. Perhaps students are enjoying a basketball game, a dance, a club meeting or are rehearsing for a concert, play or speaking contest.

Just as often, however, these rooms are used by adults at night. Adult education classes, extension courses for teachers and organization meetings are just a few of the things for which adults use our building.

The Board of Education has had many a weary night session planning the new buildings. We want them to know that we appreciate their work.

Mimi tried hard to complicate matters with the males but Alice was determined to the end — of Mimi and Duane. Maybe Jeanette needed Sherwood's glasses with her knack of seeing things. Poor Helen Mary still hasn't found out whom Mimi was after and when. Dave was happily making thimbles and Anne was managing the deal. With Gerry's help Ebbie and Marilyn decided to spend their best years together to the disgust of Rich and Ellie, assigned to deliver them to St. Peter and the pearly gates.

Our directors—Miss Montville, Mrs. Martin, Miss Allen. Even if their perch looks lofty their comments weren't.
